Conſtantinople, April 26. N. S.

ON the 22d Inſtant the Grand Signior thought fit to depoſe Mehmed Baſhaw, his Prime Vizier, who with Oſman Aga, his Kihaya, is ſent on board a Galley to Scio, where he is to continue, having the Title of Baſhaw of that Iſland conferred upon him, to make his Baniſhment the leſs diſhonourable. Ali Baſhaw was the ſame day made Grand Vizier in his room: He was Selictar Aga to the late Sultan during the latter part of his Reign. Achmet, the preſent Grand Signior, ſoon after his Acceſſion to the Empire, made him a Baſhaw of the Firſt Rank, and a Vizier of the Bench; and has now promoted him to the higheſt Dignity to which any Subject here can be advanced. Six Frigats are ſhortly to ſail from hence to the Black Sea, and as many Men of War to Alexandria; and in a few days the Captain Baſhaw will ſail with a Fleet of Men of War and Gallies to the Archipelago, to clear thoſe Seas of the Malteſe Privateers, and to receive the Tribute of the ſeveral Iſlands.

Turin, May 26. The 15th Inſtant in the Afternoon his Royal Highneſs having received Advice, That the Enemy were paſſing the Doria at Pianezza, and that a ſmall Body of them was already got on this ſide the River, immediately mounted on Horſeback, and went to Colegno to obſerve their Motions: He found that 1000 Foot, and ſome few of the Enemy's Horſe, had paſſed the Doria, to view the Ground on this ſide; but that our Piquet-Guard advancing towards them, they ſoon retired to the other ſide of the River. The 20th the Enemy made two Bridges over the Doria near to Pianezza, and they raiſed a Battery of four Pieces of Cannon at Lucinto for the covering of ſome other Bridges which they intended to make there. We perceived from our Ramparts, that the Enemy were deſtroying the Houſes between this Town and their Line; whereupon his Royal Highneſs ordered ſeveral Pieces of Cannon to be fired upon their Workmen. That Day his Royal Highneſs received a Courier from Genoa, with the Confirmation of the Retreat of the French Fleet, under the Command of the Count de Toulouſe, from before Barcelona; and that the Duke of Anjou with his Army had likewiſe raiſed the Siege of that Place by Land. His Royal Highneſs alſo received Advice of an Action between the Imperial Army under Prince Eugene, and the French commanded by the Duke of Vendoſme, in which the Enemy had loſt a conſiderable number of Men. The 21ſt his Royal Highneſs having notice given him the Night before, That the Enemy deſigned to paſs the Doria, was abroad by break of Day, and went directly to Colegno; but finding it impracticable to hinder the Enemy's Paſſage, he ordered all his Guards which were poſted near the River to retire; and about Noon his Cavalry marched from Colegno, and came in Order of Battel within two Miles of Turin. The Enemy came to Colegno about half an hour after our Troops were retired, and took Poſt there; and ſoon after their whole Army was in ſight. His Royal Highneſs put himſelf at the Head of his Horſe, and continued there till Evening, when he returned hither, leaving the Care of every thing to General Daun, who ſtay'd till Night. The Enemy extended their Right towards Rivoſi, and their Left towards the Doria: The Forces on both ſides lay upon their Arms all Night. When the Enemy firſt began to paſs the Doria at Pianezza, his Royal Highneſs ordered four Pieces of Cannon to be planted ſo as to hinder the Enemy's paſſing over the Bridge they had made there, which was covered by a Battery of four Pieces of Cannon; and our Cannon not only hindered the Enemy's paſſing there, but alſo ſilenced their Battery. The Enemy left about 15 Battalions in their Redoubts on the other ſide of the Doria. The Marquis de Cavour, who was Governor of the Citadel of Turin, being obliged to quit that Poſt by reaſon of the ill State of his Health, his Royal Highneſs appointed Monſieur de la Rochedallerie, who was formerly Governor of Verue, to ſucceed him in that Command. The 22d his Royal Highneſs was at the Head of his Horſe by Three of the Clock in the Morning, and he poſted ſome Foot in the neighbouring Houſes to cover the Retreat of our Horſe, and to ſupport them if there ſhould be Occaſion. About Six of the Clock the Enemy advanced in Order of Battel, and puſh'd our Grand Guard; whereupon his Royal Highneſs gave Orders for his Horſe to retire, which they did in very good Order. Upon the firſt News of the Enemy's Motion, his Royal Highneſs advanced to obſerve them: A Body of the Enemy's Huſſars endeavoured to cut off his Retreat, for which purpoſe they fell upon one of our advanced Guards, and put them into diſorder; and if ſome Officers, who were with his Royal Highneſs, had not rallied this Guard, and driven back the Huſſars, his Royal Highneſs would have run a great Riſque of being kill'd or taken Priſoner. However, not one of our Officers received any hurt, and we had not above eight or ten Troopers kill'd or wounded. Mr. Hamilton, Adjutant-General in the Emperor's Service, had his Horſe wounded not far from his Royal Highneſs, who expoſed himſelf to the greateſt Dangers, as well in endeavouring to rally and ſupport his Men, as in advancing with a freſh Body to attack the Enemy's Huſſars, and ſome other Troops that had joined them. The Enemy being advanced within Cannon-ſhot of our Citadel, made a Halt; and in the mean time our Troops filed off towards the Valentine, where the Horſe encamped all Night, and the Foot came to their reſpective Poſts in this City. The Enemy encamped behind the River Porporate, their Right being ſtretched out towards the Po, and their left to Lucento. The Cannon of our Citadel fired upon the Enemy all Day, and obliged them to remove ſome of their Tents. By what we can obſerve, they are much in the ſame Poſts as they were the laſt Year; but they take up a great deal more Ground. We have ſtill one Gate open, by which we daily receive great Quantities of all Sorts of Proviſions. His Royal Highneſs, when he gave the Word, ſpoke very obligingly of the Conduct of his Officers, and of the handſome Retreat which they had made in the Preſence of the Enemy's ſuperior Forces. The 23d our Horſe decamped from the Valentine, and marched to Montcalier: This allarm'd the Enemy; and we obſerved them in Motion in their Camp, and their Guards were doubled. All the Deſerters agree, That the Enemy's heavy Cannon is ſoon expected from Suza and Chivas and that they will open their Trenches before the End of the Month. They talk of two Attacks, one againſt the Town, and the other againſt the Citadel; but they are not ſtrong enough to attack both theſe Places at once. His Royal Highneſs paſſed the Po, and went towards Montcalier, to view the Enemy's Camp; which extending it ſelf near the Po, he ordered a Battery of 12 Pieces of Cannon to be erected the next Morning to fire upon them. The 24th his Royal Highneſs was on Horſeback very early, to ſee what Execution this Battery had done, and found it had obliged the Enemy to abandon a Line they were making from their Camp to the Valentine, in order take Poſt there. His Royal Highneſs conſidering of what Conſequence this Poſt would be to the Enemy, gave the neceſſary Orders for maintaining it as long as ſhould be poſſible, and for the pulling down ſuch of the Walls and Buildings there as might be of Uſe to them if they ſhould take it. His Royal Highneſs ordered ſome Troops to be poſted upon the Hills on the other ſide of the Po towards Montcalier; and two or three new Batteries for 20 Pieces of Cannon to be raiſed, to try once more to oblige the Enemy to retire farther from that River. The 25th our Batteries on the other ſide of the Po being finiſhed, by break of Day they fired very briskly upon the Enemy for about three Hours, with ſo good Succeſs, that the Enemy abandoned their Tents with great Confuſion; and ſo ſoon as the Cannon had done playing, they decamped, and retired further from the River-ſide. We do not yet know what the Enemy's Loſs on this Occaſion may have been; but we are ſure it muſt be conſiderable, becauſe every Shot reached into their Camp. This is the 4th time we have Cannonaded the Enemy in this manner ſince they are come into our Neighbourhood; and each time has not only coſt them very dear, but alſo obliged them to change their Poſts. The Enemy's Line on this ſide the Doria is near finiſhed; and they have received this Day ſeveral Pieces of Cannon from Suza. This Day we received Advice, That our Cannon yeſterday killed or wounded above 400 of the Enemy's Soldiers, and about 12 Officers.

Verona, June 4. The Imperial Army under the Command of Prince Eugene, and the French Army commanded by the Duke of Vendoſme, continue encamped near each other, with the River Adige between them. The former daily receives ſuch conſiderable Reinforcements from Germany, that we hope they will ſhortly be enabled to paſs the River, and oblige the Enemy to retire.

Vienna, June 8. On Sunday the 6th Inſtant Te Deum was ſung here for the glorious Advantages gained by the Arms of the Allies, under the Command of the Duke of Marlborough, in the Netherlands, and for the raiſing of the Siege of Barcelona: Which proſperous Succeſſes we have great reaſon to hope will have a very good Influence upon the Negociations for compoſing the Troubles in Hungary.

Hanover, June 18. The King of Pruſſia began his Journey hither the 13th Inſtant in the Evening, and came early the next Morning to Tangermunde, where he reſted the 15th, and arrived here the 16th about 11 in the Morning. His Majeſty was met out of Town by the Elector, the Electoral Prince his Son, and Prince Ernest Augustus his Brother; and was received at his alighting out of his Coach by the Electress Dowager and the two Princesses. The King dined with the Elector, the Electress Dowager, and the other Princes and Princesses; and is entertained in a most splendid manner, nothing being omitted that may contribute to his Diversion, or to the setting forth the Magnificence of this Court. The same Evening his Majesty ask'd the Princess of Hanover, Daughter to his Electoral Highness, in Marriage for the Prince Royal; and the Match was publickly declared yesterday. The Prince Royal presented her Highness with a Ring of great Value; and this Night the Contract is to be signed. His Majesty intends to go from hence the 23d Instant for Cleves. The Solemnity of the Marriage is deferred till his Return. The Lord Raby, Her Majesty of Great Britain's Ambassador Extraordinary to the King of Prussia, arrived here the 15th from Berlin. The Lord Halifax has put off his Departure home for some Days.

From the Duke of Marlborough's Camp at Rousselaer, June 21. N. S. His Grace the Duke of Marlborough, with the Army under his Command, marched from Arseele the 18th Instant, and encamped in this Place, our Right being extended beyond Hoogleede, and our Left beyond Roulelaer. The Inhabitants of Brabant, upon our Army's being at this distance from them, began to fear lest the Enemy, who have lately received a Reinforcement from Germany, should attempt to insult them: But his Grace, to free them from any Apprehensions of this Kind, sent Brigadier General Cadogan with a Body of Horse towards Oudenarde, and caused the necessary Dispositions to be made for the immediate March of the Army that way, upon the first Intelligence of the Enemy's being in motion. Brigadier Meredyth, who with a Detachment of our Troops has blocked up Dendermonde, was informed by Deserters from the Town, that the Burghers had pressed the Governor to surrender; which he refusing to do, and insisting that they would wait at least till such time as our Cannon had begun to fire upon them, they obliged him to give them a Promise under his Hand that he would then capitulate. Our Artillery to be employed against that Place will be ready this day; so that we hope by our next Accounts to receive Advice of its being surrendred. We hear a Detachment of 1500 of the Enemy's Horse, with each a Foot-Soldier behind him, is marched from Mons to the Relief of Deudermonde: But Brigadier Cadogan having Notice of it, immediately marched towards Alost, in order to join Brigadier Meredith, if there should be occasion. The Army commanded by Monsieur d'Auverquerque invested Ostend yesterday morning, and will besiege that Place in Form as soon as the Artillery designed for that Service is come up. The Enemy are doing all they are able to repair their late extraordinary Losses; and give out they shall take the Field again about the middle of next Month.

Hague, June 22. N. S. Monsieur d'Auverquerque, with the Army under his Command, advanced the 18th Instant before Nieuport, and had already made some Dispositions for attacking that Place; but meeting with Difficulties which would have rendred this Siege more tedious than was expected, it was thought fit to begin with that of Ostend, and he accordingly sate down before that Town on the 21st. Letters from France of the 18th Instant give an Account, That by their Advices from Italy the Siege of Turin was carried on, the Trenches being opened before the Citadel; and that they had taken one of the Outworks, which had cost them very dear. The Garison defends it self with great Bravery and Resolution, and the Duke of Savoy directs all things with admirable Conduct and Diligence. Our Letters from Madrid give an Account, That they had at last received the News of the Siege of Barcelona being raised; That the Dutchess of Anjou would thereupon have retired to Pampeluna, but was dissuaded from it by her Ministers; That Salamanca had declared for King Charles III. and that it was expected several other Towns thereabouts would follow that Example, the Country on that side, as well as the whole Kingdom of Arragon, being generally disposed in favour of his Catholick Majesty.
